

THE MONUMENTAL CITY
FAMOUS PUBLIC MONUMENTS

By

The Commission for Historical and Architectural Preservation

2000

The Baltimore City Commission for Historical and Architectural Preservation (chap) coordinated the conservation of the Francis Scott Key monument. National funding support for the conservation treatment was provided through a $62,250 award from Target stores as part of Save Outdoor Sculpture!, A joint project of heritage preservation and the National Museum of American Art, Smithsonian Institution. First Lady Hillary Rodham Clinton announced this new program during a ceremony held at the Francis Scott Key monument in July of 1998.

Chap worked in partnership with the department of recreation and parks and the department of public works. State, city and local funding for the project was provided by the Maryland military monuments commission, the friends of the Francis Scott Key monument, the Baltimore City Department of Housing and Community Development, and the Department of Public Works.

Conservator Steven Tatti, s.a.t. Inc., and his team performed the treatment. Mr. Tatti, a nationally recognized conservator of outdoor sculpture, has provided conservation services to the City of Baltimore since 1980 when the Bronze Project was launched by CHAP in Mount Vernon place.
